INVITATION LETTER

Dear Mr. Thomas R. Benke:

We sincerely invite you to participate in the Third Fujian Environmental Protection Projects Fair which is sponsored by Fujian Environmental Protection Bureau (FJEPB) in Xiamen city, Fujian province, on September 8, 2007, to exchange environmental protection technology and talk about project cooperation.

The Fair aims at setting up a platform for contact, exchange and cooperation between officials of environmental protection departments, investors of environmental protection enterprises from foreign countries or regions and their counterparts from Fujian province, to promote the environmental improvement and environmental protection industrial development.

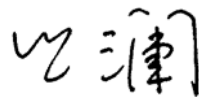

During the period of the Fair, FJEPB will invite overseas environmental protection officials and enterprises and organize leaders from all 9 municipal environmental protection bureaus of Fujian province, owners of environmental protection projects, representatives from Fujian's major environmental protection companies to take part in the event. In order to make the Fair more practical, efficient and fruitful, we elaborately design and prepare the agenda which includes two parts: First, companies from foreign countries or regions introduce their general information, advanced technology of environmental protection and investment interests. Secondly, the environmental protection companies and Fujian's owners of projects hold peer matching and partner-seeking for projects cooperation. In addition, we will provide the representatives with information materials of environmental protection projects attracting foreign investment in Fujian province, and make propaganda for overseas companies without paying any money to enlarge their influence in Fujian 's environmental protection fields, This will provide the remarkable opportunity for you to find cooperation partners and environmental protection projects for investment. It will be the new start of your cooperation and investment in Fujian.

The Third Fujian Environmental Protection Projects Fair is one important component of the 12TH China International Fair for Investment and Trade (CIFIT), we will also bring you to join the other events of CIFIT, and your board and accommodation in Xiamen on September 7-9, will be free.

You are warmly welcome to the Fair. Contact: Tel: 0086-591-28379917
